Tennis Team Wins Ivy Title (Again)

Summer 2017

Columbia University Athletics, Mike McLaughlin

The Columbia men’s tennis team won its fourth consecutive Ivy League championship this spring, sharing the crown with Harvard and Cornell, as the three teams finished the season with the same 6–1 conference record. The Lions squad, led by All-Ivy players Shawn Hadavi, Jackie Tang, and brothers Richard and Victor Pham, became the first Columbia program to win four straight conference crowns since the fencing team’s eight-year streak from 1986 to 1993.
