New York to Los Angeles

Summer 2017

"New York to Los Angeles 1"

In his photography series New York to Los Angeles, Ashok Sinha ’99SEAS captures the abstract beauty of the view from an airplane window. Several of his sweeping aerial photos, shot during ordinary commercial cross-country flights, are currently on display at the Marion Center for Photographic Arts in Santa Fe (including New York to Los Angeles 1, above). Sinha is also a photojournalist and the founder of Cartwheel Initiative, a nonprofit that runs photography and animation workshops for refugee children.
