On Campus

Kicking off Columbia’s Year of Water

An interactive installation lets you “experience” rising sea levels.

Fall 2019

Daan Roosegaarde

WATERLICHT, an immersive light installation at the Lenfest Center for the Arts, runs October 22 to 24 and helps kick off the Year of Water, a multidisciplinary initiative that highlights the environmental, economic, and social issues surrounding Earth’s most precious resource.

Guide to school abbreviations