

Homecoming Triumph

Winter 2019-20

Mike McLaughlin

The Columbia Lions notched their largest homecoming victory ever this past fall, trouncing the Penn Quakers 44-6 at Robert K. Kraft Field on October 19. Led by sophomore quarterback Ty Lenhart, who threw for 158 yards and rushed for ninety-five more, the Lions were dominant from the start, scoring forty-four unanswered points before the Quakers finally put a touchdown on the board in the fourth quarter. “We picked a good time to play our best football of the year,” said Columbia head coach Al Bagnoli. “I’m happy for our players, happy for the program ... We’ll use this as a springboard to just keep pushing it forward and keep improving.”
