

Amanda Seales, Robert A. Katzmann, and Other Alumni in the News

Spring/Summer 2020

Amanda Seales (photo courtesy The Real)

Comedian and actress Amanda Seales '05GSAS joined The Real, a nationally syndicated daytime television talk show, as the fifth permanent cohost. Seales is also a star of the HBO series Insecure.

Ashley James '09CC was named an associate curator of contemporary art at New York's Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum, making her the first full-time Black curator in the museum's sixty-year history. James previously worked as a curator at the Brooklyn Museum.

Robert A. Katzmann '73CC won the Vilcek Prize for Excellence, an award that honors "champions of immigrant causes." Katzmann, the chief judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, was recognized for his work broadening access to legal representation for immigrants in need.

Morgan Parker '10CC won the National Book Critics Circle Award in poetry for her collection Magical Negro. Parker is the author of two other poetry collections and a young-adult novel.

The Financial Times named Roula Khalaf '89SIPA as its editor in chief, making her the first woman to lead the 131-year-old newspaper. Khalaf has been with the paper for twenty-four years, most recently as its deputy editor.

Princess Francois '11CC won the Milken Educator Award, a $25,000 prize given to top mid-career education professionals. Francois is the assistant principal at Brooklyn's Math, Engineering, and Science Academy, a charter high school.

Guide to school abbreviations

All categories >