

A Unique Meditation on Birding

Fall 2021

Jeffrey Jenkins

The Great Bird Blind Debate, a collaboration between David Brooks '09SOA and Columbia visual-arts mentor Mark Dion, is a unique meditation on birding. The installation, built on a bird sanctuary at the Planting Fields Foundation in Oyster Bay, New York, features a bird-watching structure by each artist. Brooks's Budding Bird Blind (above) is planted close to a series of saplings that will grow into and around the structure over the next decade, ensuring that the bird blind will slowly decay and become a true bird habitat.

Guide to school abbreviations

TAKE THE COLUMBIA ALL-ALUMNI SURVEY

Complete the survey
by June 5.

50 randomly selected
survey participants
will receive a
Columbia sweatshirt!

Shape the alumni experience.

alumni.columbia.edu/survey2026

 COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK

All categories >